AND MORE!

Welcome to the newly redesigned CASSA newsletter!

Message from the President: The Value of Partnerships

ONE SPRING WHEN I had been working in education for about 15 years, in many different roles, I met with one of my assistant superintendents. I was asked if I enjoyed my current school assignment and if I would consider applying for one of three large high school principal positions.

"Thanks, but I don't think I'm ready for that," I replied.

"Roger, you're no spring chicken. You're nearing the middle of your career and if you're not ready now, when do you think you will be ready?"

That meeting changed the course of my career. For the first time, I thought about what I would like to do before I reached the end of my career. Like PJ Funnybunny, I decided I did not want to be a principal. I wanted to be a partnership facilitator.

A year later, I took a partnership facilitator position in central office. My time there is one of my career highlights. When I was appointed superintendent of Northern Lights School Division in 2007, we created a partnership facilitator position. Having someone designated to work with the larger community and deliver programming to better serve children and families has changed the face of the division.

Roger Nippard
President

Over the past few years, CASSA has forged some tremendous relationships with partners who have become part of the CASSA family. Olive Garden used to have the slogan "When you're here, you're family." I believe that is an apt phrase to describe our national organization.

I often reflect back on that day in the assistant superintendent's office. Without that conversation, I don't think I would have gone on to serve in other positions at the system level and certainly never envisioned eventually having the honour to serve as president of CASSA.

This will be my last newsletter message, as my term ends at the end of June. In reflecting back over the past few years, I recall many individuals who have spent countless hours volunteering their time and energy to make CASSA the strong organization it is today. Truly through their efforts, "the campground has been left in better condition than they found it." Thank you for this opportunity.

OUR PURPOSE

CASSA is the Canadian organization of school system leaders that promotes and supports quality education for the success of all students.

OUR MISSION

CASSA strengthens the capacity of school system leaders and influences the directions that impact education and student learning.

Message from the Executive Director: The Continuing Growth and Evolution of CASSA

I AM PLEASED to be able to report that CASSA continues to grow and evolve as an organization! The CASSA Board of Directors unanimously approved the membership of the New Brunswick School Superintendents' Association, and we welcome our school system leadership colleagues from New Brunswick to CASSA.

CASSA has a new logo, appearing on the front page, and a new mission statement and purpose, appearing above this column.

In response to the recommendations of the communications audit, CASSA continues to reach out to our members with a redesigned website, a presence on Twitter (@CASSA-ACGCS) and a mobile app for either Android or Apple mobile phones.

We also have a brand new design for our Leaders & Learners newsletter, as you may have noticed.

CASSA has reached out to a number of educational partners and continues to seek out ways to have our voice heard across the country.

This year's CASSA conference in Calgary promises to be the biggest in our history, with over 260 attendees (to date). CASSA wishes to express its appreciation to Alberta Education and its Minister Jeff Johnson for the strong support that has been shown to CASSA as we host delegates from across the country to discuss student engagement.

CASSA's success is the result of the strength of our partnerships and relationships with CASSA sponsors. President Roger Nippard will be reflecting on the importance of partnerships in his column. It is safe to say that CASSA would not be in the strong financial situation it is without the support from sponsors and partners. Lastly, CASSA is strong because of the dedication of the members of our board of directors who donate their time to ensure there is a national forum and an opportunity for school system leaders from across Canada to listen and learn from one another. My thanks to them for their support.

We have five nominees for the 2014 Xerox EXL Award, recognizing Canada's superintendent of the year. The recipient of this prestigious national award will be announced at the opening ceremonies at this year's conference in Calgary.

It's not too late to register for the conference, and I look forward to seeing as many of you as possible in beautiful Alberta this July.

2014 Conference in Calgary: Engaging Students, Making a Difference

THIS YEAR'S CASSA conference in Calgary promises to be the biggest we've ever had. That's thanks in part to members registering in record numbers. The support from sponsoring partners, such as Imagine Learning and Maximus, and Alberta Education have helped make the conference a must-attend event for Canadian school system leaders.

You'll find details of our family-friendly tours starting on page 6.

Pre-conference activities start on Thursday, July 3, and include the 9am CASSA AGM (all delegates welcome), a series of meetings between the College of Alberta School Superintendents (CASS) and Alberta Education at 12:30pm (CASS members and Alberta Education staff eligible to attend), and Leading People to Success, a free coaching workshop based on The Change Place programs at 1pm.

Conference activities start at 5:30pm, with a no-host bar. At 6pm, CASSA president Roger Nippard hosts a welcome and recognition of guests and sponsors; CASS president Karl Germann, AASA president-elect David Pennington and others will also speak.

At 6:25pm, the Alberta Minister of Education, the Honourable Jeff Johnson, will speak on "Inspiring Education." He was elected to his first term as a Member of the Calgary, host city to the 2014 CASSA conference.

Legislative Assembly for the riding of Athabasca-Sturgeon-Redwater in March 2008. He was appointed Minister of Education in May 2012. He is also the 2012-14 Council of Ministers of Education chair.

The evening will also include the 2014 CASSA Awards, sponsored by Xerox. The awards presentation will start at 7:15pm. They include the CASSA Honorary Life Membership Award and the Xerox EXL Awards. Randy Brydges, director of Xerox-Western Canada Operations, Kristen Keating, strategic account manager with Xerox, and Linda Lucas, president of ELLE & Associates, will present these awards.

(Award coverage will appear in Leaders & Learners' annual double issue, published after the conference.)

At 8pm, Dr. Doug Willms will present the opening keynote address called "Student Engagement, Learning and Mental Health in Canadian Schools." Tell Them From Me is a dynamic web-based evaluation that lets students take part in their school's evaluation in a non-threatening way. In this presentation, Dr. Willms will summarize the Canadian findings with an emphasis on the equality of outcomes among social class groups and between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal students, and discuss the extent to which these subpopulations have access to the classroom and school factors that affect schooling outcomes. The findings have implications for policy and practice at the classroom, school, district and provincial levels.

Dr. Willms is the president of KSI Research International Inc. and The Learning Bar Inc., professor and director of the Canadian Research Institute for Social Policy at the University of New Brunswick, and holds the Canada Research Chair in Literacy and Human Development. He is a Member of the US National Academy of Education, a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and a Fellow of the International Academy of Education.

At 9pm, everyone is invited to the CASSA reception sponsored by CASS and Alberta Education. This event includes a no-host cash bar, a variety of hot and cold hors d'oeuvres, veggies and tasty Alberta roast beef on a bun.

You're in for a real treat when Billy Melville, country music's best-kept secret, takes the stage at 9:15pm. Billy is the grandson of chuckwagon racing legend Orville Strandquist and an award-winning media personality who happens to know his way around a country song or two.

Billy is also arguably the most trusted source of information on chuckwagon racing today. He is the colour commentator for the World Professional Chuckwagon Association's radio broadcasts. You'll enjoy his traditional western music repertoire and storytelling skills.

Sessions start on Friday, July 4, at 8:45am, and include Successful Transitions: Possibilities for Prevention, Intervention and Inclusion; iPads for All St. James-Assiniboia's (Winnipeg) Middle Year Students: Assessing the Success; School Leadership in a Transformed Education System; Community Learning Centres: It Takes a Village...; Proposing a New Path Forward for Alberta's Education System: The Task Force for Teaching Excellence Report to the Minister; Empowering Students to Make a Difference: One School's Journey to Build an Inclusive Community through Anti-Bullying Awareness; Making High School Flexibility Work in Other Grades; and Youth Outreach and Transitions: Engaging and Re-engaging Students Across the System.

Displays open for the day at 9:30am, and a partners-sponsored coffee break is offered at 10am.

More sessions start at 10:45, and include Inspiring Student Engagement and Learning at Michael Strembitsky School; Inspired Education, Inspiring Students; The Safe Schools Team of Grand Erie: "Meeting Students Where They Are";

Lunch is from 12 to 12:55pm.

Afternoon breakout sessions continue at 1pm, and include Student Voice, Student Choice; Capacity Building and Changing Teacher Practice to Raise Student Engagement; Assessing with Meaning; Maximizing Partnerships for Innovation; Community Kitchen: Engaging Students and Our Community; Large-scale Online Budget Engagement: Successes and Lessons Learned; Moving to Action Using Instructional Rounds; and A Tale of Growth and Engagement.

Another partners-sponsored coffee break is offered at 2:15pm.

The final breakout sessions for the day start at 3pm and end at 4:15. They include The Path to Efficacy: Making a Difference for Students and Leaders; Moving Beyond Tolerance: Combatting Homophobia in Elementary Schools; Streamline Your Community Engagement by Embracing Mobile Communications; Giving Student Voice through Capacity Building; Inspiring Young Learners Beyond the Four Walls; Scaling Up and Sustaining Professional Technology Learning for Teachers; and Student Engagement: The Key to a High Performing Board.

A CASSA Partners Dinner, for CASSA executive and sponsoring partners only, starts at 6pm. Conference delegates are free to explore Calgary this evening.

Sessions get underway again on Saturday, July 5, at 8:45am. The first round includes Technology to Ensure Student Engagement; Taking Care of Student Well-being First: Educator's Role; Integrating and Fostering Student Engagement Through a Strengths-based School Culture; School Climate, Student Behaviour and Classroom Engagement: Connecting the Dots; Excitement, Energy and Enthusiasm: Reimagine Lakeshore School Division; Developing Global Citizens Through Inquiry-based Learning; and Teaching Quality Standard Redesign.

Displays open again at 9:30am, and a partners-sponsored coffee break is offered from 10 to 10:40.

Morning sessions continue at 10:45 with Dancing in the Hallways; Enhancing Relationships With Your Kids; Engagement within the Full Day Kindergarten Classroom; Project-based Learning; Alberta Dual Credit in Action; Fun Fact: Math Opens Doors; Speak Out Alberta: Ministers Student Advisory Committee; and Paradigm Shift in High School: Teaching and Learning to Successfully Engage Students.

Lunch is from 12 to 12:55pm.

The final breakout sessions start at 1pm and include If You Give a Student a Voice...; Aspiring Toward Redundancy: A Systemic Approach to Promoting Student Independence; Leveraging

Technology to Meet the Pressing Needs of Your District; Pathway Planning as a Student Engagement Strategy; and Using a Blended Learning Environment to Serve Your English Language Learners, Struggling Readers and Exceptional Students.

At 2:20pm, Dean Shareski will give the closing keynote address. Dean is the community manager for Discovery Education Canada. He taught grades 1 to 8 for 14 years and spent 9 years as a digital learning consultant for Prairie South School Division in Moose Jaw. He also teaches pre-service teachers at the University of Regina.

Dean's blog consistently ranks among the top educational blogs. He also contributes to Tech Learning and The Huffington Post. In 2010, he won the ISTE Award for Outstanding Leader of the Year.

At 3:10pm, there will be a video presentation called The Star Thrower Story. Learn more in the CASSA Member Benefits story below.

The conference closing address will be delivered by Cindy Finn, CASSA's incoming president (2014-16), at 3:20pm. Be sure to stick around after Cindy's address to see if you've won one of the great conference door prizes. You must be present to claim your prize if your name is drawn.

Of course there is still plenty for delegates and their spouses and families to do after the official conference activities wrap up. See page 6 and 7 for more information on post-conference tour options.

We hope to see you in Calgary.

CASSA Member Benefits: Star Thrower and The Change Place

CASSA IS PLEASED to partner with Star Thrower and offer discounted rates when members access the Star Thrower programs and resources.

What is the story behind Star Thrower?

Joel Barker's version of the Loren Eiseley classic effectively reminds us that we all have the ability to make a difference. As individuals, we can choose to take action and participate in the world around us. Together, we can shape the future.

This short program encourages participants to take action. The video learning tool includes a six-minute video, training guide, self-study guide, PowerPoint presentation and a transcript of the video program.

Member benefits include access to a password-protected portal for the video stream of the Star Thrower story and support materials, and one year unlimited access within a school.

It costs $100 per school in a CASSA member province or territory or $125 per school in a non-CASSA member region.

Schools in a CASSA member province or territory can also sign up for continued professional development through the portal, including three video learning tools (Everyday Creativity, For the Love of It, and Celebrate! Change Your Lens, Change Your Life) and the associated support materials (leader guide, workbook and PowerPoint). The cost to schools in a CASSA member region is $495.

To learn more about the Star Thrower program and benefits, visit their website at www.starthrower.com or contact Eilene@starthrower.com.

CASSA has also partnered with The Change Place, which offers an education coaching program for Canadian school system leaders.

To learn more about the programs offered by The Change Place, visit them online at www.thechangeplace.com. You can also attend a free CASSA pre-conference workshop in Calgary. For details on the free CASSA workshop, contact John Laverty at cjohn.laverty@gmail.com.

We encourage our members to look into the programming these organizations offer.
